

Welcome to Cavell Court

Residential, nursing and dementia care

Trust us to care

Inside the new Care UK care home that's opening near you, you'll immediately notice the welcoming family atmosphere.

From our receptionists through to our care teams – each of us takes pride in delivering quality care for your loved one in warm and luxurious surroundings.

Care UK is one of the country's leading independent providers of health and social care services. We run everything from hospitals and treatment centres to residential homes and day-care clubs. We're known for our exceptional standards of care – standards that will be evident in every aspect of our new care home.

Our new care home will provide a wide range of quality care services including nursing, residential and respite care for older people. We'll also provide specialist care for those living with Alzheimer's and other forms of dementia.

“Each of us loves what we do.”

Our people make a difference

Our care and nursing teams bring compassion, dedication, superb skills and impressive experience to every aspect of their work. So you know that your loved one is in the best hands.

Our teams receive regular training to keep their skills up-to-date. Their training even includes experiential courses in what it may be like to live with dementia.

When your loved one joins us, we'll work with them and all your family to understand their likes and dislikes, so that we can design a care plan that's tailored to their exact needs.

We'll also be here to provide family and friends with help and advice. We offer 24/7 telephone access and you'll be able to visit at any time of the day or night.

"We're here to help, whenever you need us."

Luxury living for your loved one

Our new care home opening near you will change your view of elderly care. It will have its own hair salon and cinema, and even a coffee shop. Every aspect will be designed with your loved one's comfort in mind.

The home will have beautifully furnished dining and lounge areas, as well as activity spaces and quiet areas for relaxing in. Our aim is to create an intimate, community atmosphere where residents feel entirely at home.

Each bedroom will be large and beautifully furnished and have an en-suite wet room, flat-screen television, adjustable profile bed, 24-hour nursing call system, plus phone and internet connection points. We'll also encourage your loved one to bring in their own treasured items to make their rooms feel more homely.

The home will be surrounded by secure, landscaped gardens with wheelchair-friendly walkways. The gardens will offer an inviting haven on warmer days to enjoy the sun, chat with friends, go for a stroll or simply sit and relax.

Making every meal a treat

Meal times will be a chance to savour the tasty, always changing menus created by our dedicated chef, while chatting with friends or family.

Our chef will use carefully selected, fresh ingredients, with a focus on choice and nutrition, but above all, taste. Special diets, including cultural requirements, will be easily catered for and fresh fruit, snacks and refreshments will be available 24 hours a day.

“Everyone looks forward to meal times.”

Keeping active and having fun

Keeping busy and involved in the life of the home is the secret to helping your loved one to stay independent. Our approach, what we call Activity Based Care, will be at the heart of everything we do in our new home.

Activity Based Care is simply about supporting residents to continue making decisions for themselves. That may be about their care, the activities they do or even the meals we serve.

Your loved one will be encouraged to take part in the hobbies they have always enjoyed and we'll even support them to take up new interests. Experience has shown us that residents who join in with the individual and group activities planned by our knowledgeable team often discover new talents, make new friends and generally get more out of life in the home.

Baking, cinema evenings, visits from local musicians, arts and crafts, games and quizzes, outings to local places of interest... There will be plenty to keep your loved one busy, and their suggestions for new things to do will be very welcome.

Creating a sense of place

Our new care home is being built to the latest designs, yet will reflect the history of the surrounding area. We'll also work hard to make it a key part of the local community.

Many residents who'll move into our new home will have lived locally for many years. Understandably, they'll still want to feel a part of the area they love. That's why we'll ensure that our home quickly comes to play a key part in the local community.

How do we do this? The home itself, or rooms or suites within it, may be named after local landmarks, historic industries or famous people. We'll also... We also decorate parts of the home with local scenes or vintage photos of local landmarks.

Plus, to ensure that residents continue to see familiar faces from the local community, our home team will be developing relationships with local groups, churches, schools, entertainers and health and wellbeing professionals right now, before the home is completed.

Designed with everyone in mind

Every aspect of the new care home has been designed to create a relaxing, accessible home for residents, including those who are wheelchair users or are living with dementia.

Our new home will be divided into different suites. Each includes a number of resident bedrooms plus a lounge and dining area. Creating a community within a community has proved to be a very successful design, particularly for residents who are living with dementia who find unfamiliar faces and lots of coming and going unsettling.

Everything from signage and colour schemes to lighting and walkways around the home will be 'dementia friendly', enabling residents with a variety of abilities to find their way around independently.

What's more, because we understand the important role of the outdoors in maintaining wellbeing, we'll be applying the same inclusive approach to the design of the secure landscaped garden around the home. Here sensory plants and accessible circular paths will make it easy for wheelchair users or residents living with dementia to enjoy fresh air and beautiful flowers.

“There are lots of little features around the home that make you smile.”
